Author Promotional Toolkit

Maximize the impact of your published research!

9 promotional tools
to help ensure your work gets seen, read and cited.

- SEO
  - Are your title and abstract clear and searchable? Have you used the most relevant keywords?
  - Have you looked at off-page SEO strategies, such as link building, to promote your article?

- Conferences
  - Think about simple messages to promote your article at your next conference — whether networking with colleagues, or presenting formally.

- Publicity
  - Is your work research newsworthy? Have you shared it with your local press office?
  - If sending a press release wait until the article is published online, refer to the journal in the first paragraph, and link to the final published article on Wiley Online Library.

- Networking
  - If you run a blog, post about your article.

- The Wilder Web
  - Update your faculty or professional website with an entry about your article.

- Multimedia
  - Talk directly to potential readers and create a short video or podcast which conveys the essence of your paper. Ask your Wiley contact for more details.

- Email
  - Sign up for journal content alerts, so you know when your article is officially published online.
  - Add a link to your email signature.
  - Send a link to your article to fellow researchers, colleagues, and friends.

- Article Sharing
  - Use Wiley Content Sharing and receive a unique sharing link to a full-text, read-only version of your article that can be shared with unlimited people.
  - Use Wiley Author Services to nominate up to 10 colleagues to receive free access to your article, or email a link to key colleagues.

- Social Media
  - Share a link to your article on Twitter, LinkedIn, Facebook or other social media platforms.
  - Engage with any existing society / college social media accounts.
