Der Wissenschaftsverlag John Wiley & Sons, in Deutschland präsent durch Wiley-VCH (Weinheim), hat sich mit den deutschen Forschungseinrichtungen auf einen „Deal“ geeinigt. Seit 2016 verhandelt ein Konsortium unter der Marke „Projekt Deal“ mit den großen Wissenschaftsverlagen Elsevier, Springer Nature und Wiley über eine neue nationale Zusammenarbeit, die die klassischen Abonnements von E-Journals ablösen soll. (Hier geht es zur „Deal“-Chronologie, hier zum jüngsten Lagebericht am Jahreswechsel.)

Auf der Konferenz Academic Publishing Europe (APE) haben die Parteien jetzt eine erste Einigung bekannt
